About This Series

Blender Character Modeling For Beginners HD is a series by Riven Phoenix that takes the art student through a step-by-step process in creating a high quality 3D character design from scratch using a formula based system that uses no reference. The art student will start by building a realistic human figure model using a simple cube, then using special formulas created by Riven Phoenix be able to model the complete human figure down to the last detail. The power of the formula based system is that any person can follow along to get the same exact results. Students will also become very intimate with the design of the human figure using this formula based system as they build out the surface anatomy. This course is designed to teach art students how to use blender and become more confident with it to develop their own character designs from scratch. Each step is explained clearly so the student can follow along with ease.

I've found this series to be very informative , and have learnt a lot of the features and methods of modelling that I hadn't come across in other tutorials on the internet!

Riven goes through and thoroughly explains what you are doing and why.

My only real issues that I have found with series though is that he tends to go through things so quickly at times that it is very hard to keep up with him, therefore I have found that I am constantly pausing or rewinding a few seconds.
